

TBA

Gevorg Sargsyan

Clean Energy at the World Bank, USA

Biography

Gevorg Sargsyan is currently the Global Lead for Clean Energy at the World Bank. He is responsible for renewable energy, energy efficiency and carbon capture and storage business lines. Mr. Sargsyan is also overseeing clean energy investments financed by various climate funds. During his 15 years of experience at the World Bank he has led energy and infrastructure programs in India, Russia, Sri-Lanka, Maldives, Armenia, Georgia and worked in a number of other countries in Europe, Asia and Africa.

Prior to joining the Bank, he worked as a manager in various private and public sector organizations. He has been the author and co-author of a number of publications and papers in the area of clean energy and infrastructure finance. He has MS in applied math, and PhD (ABD) in economics.